PROCARE AMBULANCE OF MARYLAND CEO SELECTED AS FINALIST IN 2012 MARYLAND SMALL BUSINESS WEEK AWARDS

BALTIMORE, MD – February 2012 – Procure Ambulance of Maryland, Inc., a full-service commercial ambulance and wheelchair van transportation company, is pleased to announce that President and CEO Debbie Ailiff has been selected as a finalist for the Maryland Small Business Week Awards in the Small Business Person of the Year category.

The Maryland Small Business Week Awards is part of a three-tiered program conducted by the Small Business Association (SBA). Qualified winners from the Baltimore area will advance to a regional round of judging and vie for the opportunity to move forward to a national competition recognizing small business owners and champions.

"It's a great honor to be selected as a finalist for this prestigious award," commented Ailiff. "Not many healthcare operations are considered small, so it is a pleasure to represent small, minority owned businesses in the Small Business Person of the Year category."

In 2012, there were eleven award categories for the Maryland SBA award nominations. Nominations for each award category must meet certain qualifying criteria set forth by the U.S. Small Business Administration in order to be considered. Nomination packages were prepared and submitted in November in accordance with the category criteria.

The Annual Maryland Small Business Week Awards Breakfast is the SBA Baltimore District's premier event designating the district level winners for National Small Business Week. It has become one of the most anticipated small business events in the region due to its prestige, networking opportunities, participation and attendance.
